Story	Action
There was a man who lived in a small house.	Place small house down
It had been a long time since he had seen his father who lived far away.	Place large house about 2 feet from the small house.
The man wanted to return to his father but found there was a small river impeding his way.	Place the small river down between the two houses.
He called his brother, who was a carpenter, to see if he could help. He came and evaluated the situation and built him a bridge. The man asked how much he owed him and he said, this is a gift.	Place small red bridge over the river.
The man continued on his way and his brother continued with him until they came to an even larger river.	Place the large river between the small river and the large house.
The man asked his brother if he would build him another bridge. The carpenter brother responded that this would take more effort and would cost five gold pieces.	Place the large bridge over the large river.
The man agreed and paid the five gold pieces.	Place the five gold pieces down by the large bridge.

Wrap up

Turn over the small home – this is the earth or our current life.

Turn over the large home – this is heaven where our Father in Heaven lives.

The small river is the first obstacle we have to overcome to return to our Father in Heaven, which is physical death.

The first bridge is the resurrection, a free gift from our Brother Jesus Christ.

The second river is the second obstacle we face and that is Spiritual Death.

The second bridge is the Atonement of Christ.

The five gold pieces represent Faith, Repentance, Baptism by Immersion, Gift of the Holy Ghost, and enduring to the end.

You might add a little person and a car to the story as you travel down the road.
