

July 2012: Sharing time Week 2

Being kind is doing and saying nice things to others.

(These sheets are designed to be a supplement to the "Sharing Time Outline" not a replacement)

Identify the doctrine (reciting a scripture): See attached Scripture

Encourage application (sharing ways to be kind):
Cut out the images of "I can be kind to..." (See attached)

I can be kind
to my Grandparents

I can be kind
to my Sister

You can do the activity as listed in the Sharing time outline by using the attached graphics or you can do a few different variations on the activity.

1. Take graphics and tape each one to the back of a bowl. Call children up one at a time. Have them toss a bean bag into one of the bowls. Whichever bowl their bean bag lands in, they get to share an example of a way to be kind to that person.
2. Do the same sort of game, except instead of a bean bag toss attach the graphics to large plastic cups that you place upside down on the table. Have them throw the bean bags like a "spilled milk" game.

Additional Ideas

Family Feud option: Divide the children into two different teams. Bring one child up from each team. Place a metal bowl with two wooden spoons on a small table at the front. Ask one of the attached questions. You can make more questions yourself or more are available for download in our "Kindness begins with me" packet. After you ask the question, the first child to pick up their spoon and hit the bowl wins the speed round. Their team can then name 5 ways to be kind to mom, dad, etc. Repeat process.

You have just cleaned your toy box out and have a lot of toys that you no longer play with. What would you do?	Your mother and father have been away all day. What could you do to surprise them before they return home?
Your mom has a meeting to attend after dinner and she is late getting dinner ready. What could you do?	A teacher at school dropped an entire stack of papers while walking down the hall. What would you do?
Your younger brother is struggling with his math homework. What could you do?	Your mother has a lot of work to do around the house, but your little sister wants her to read her a story. What could you do?

Ephesians 4:32

"And be ye kind

one to another,

tenderhearted,

forgiving one another,

even as God

for Christ's sake

hath forgiven you."
