

D&C 58:42 Behold, he who has repented of his sins, the same is forgiven, and I, the Lord, remember them no more

Don't carry around the
heavy burden of sin...

“What good does it do for God to blot out our evil from his mind if we continue to let it dominate our thinking by rerunning it on our own?”

- Sterling W. Sill

D&C 58:42 Behold, he who has repented of his sins, the same is forgiven, and I, the Lord, remember them no more

Don't carry around the
heavy burden of sin...

“What good does it do for God to blot out our evil from his mind if we continue to let it dominate our thinking by rerunning it on our own?”

- Sterling W. Sill

D&C 58:42 Behold, he who has repented of his sins, the same is forgiven, and I, the Lord, remember them no more

Don't carry around the
heavy burden of sin...

“What good does it do for God to blot out our evil from his mind if we continue to let it dominate our thinking by rerunning it on our own?”

- Sterling W. Sill

D&C 58:42 Behold, he who has repented of his sins, the same is forgiven, and I, the Lord, remember them no more

Don't carry around the
heavy burden of sin...

“What good does it do for God to blot out our evil from his mind if we continue to let it dominate our thinking by rerunning it on our own?”

- Sterling W. Sill

D&C 58:42 Behold, he who has repented of his sins, the same is forgiven, and I, the Lord, remember them no more

Don't carry around the
heavy burden of sin...

“What good does it do for God to blot out our evil from his mind if we continue to let it dominate our thinking by rerunning it on our own?”

- Sterling W. Sill

D&C 58:42 Behold, he who has repented of his sins, the same is forgiven, and I, the Lord, remember them no more

Don't carry around the
heavy burden of sin...

“What good does it do for God to blot out our evil from his mind if we continue to let it dominate our thinking by rerunning it on our own?”

- Sterling W. Sill